In every community, boys and girls are left to find their own recreation and companionship in the streets. An increasing number of children are at home with no adult care or supervision. Young people need to know that someone cares about them. The Salvation Army’s Boys & Girls Clubs offer that, and much more.

Boys & Girls Club programs promote and enhance the development of young people by instilling in them a sense of competence, usefulness, belonging and influence.

The Salvation Army Boys & Girls Clubs are a safe place for children to learn and grow, all while having fun. Boys & Girls Clubs have been a positive place for kids in Winston-Salem since 1938.

The Winston-Salem Area Command currently operates Clubs at two sites. The Ken Carlson Boys & Girls Club on Reynolds Park Road is the newest of these facilities and offers 22,000 square feet, including a dedicated space for teens, a media center, art room, gym and games room, class rooms and a soccer field with a view of downtown Winston-Salem. The Ken Carlson Boys & Girls Club has the capacity to serve approximately 1,000 members.

The International Boys & Girls Club began in 2003 and has quickly grown to more than 100 members. This Club is located at The Salvation Army International Corps on New Walkertown Road. It has a media center, a multi-purpose and gym facility, class rooms, games room, soccer field and playground. The International Boys & Girls Club has the capacity to serve approximately 200 members.

Salvation Army club staff and volunteers provide tutoring and help with homework, daily. Staff monitors report cards, progress reports and school absences, and provides individual help with end-of-grade tests.

Our Clubs also provide quality summer programs, including swim lessons through the Michael Phelps IM Swim Program.

In the 2017-2018 school year, over five hundred members were enrolled in the two Winston-Salem Clubs.
